Report for 2023-24 (First Term)

Maths

Santosh is currently studying the 1st-grade math book. He deals with simple additions, subtractions, understanding "before," "after," "between," and one-digit multiplication. Occasionally, he makes silly mistakes in basic arithmetic and may have trouble reading the questions, necessitating teacher assistance.

Projects

Birds

Santosh's boundless curiosity about birds and their contributions to daily life motivated him to participate in the topic. During bird-watching sessions, he observed local bird species and honed his skills in recognizing them by their calls. While he was sometimes slower in providing responses, he actively attempted to answer questions in class. He displayed an eagerness to learn new terms related to birds and to understand distinctions among bird types, habitat, and adaptation concepts. His contribution to the group's book, featuring vibrant bird illustrations and descriptions, demonstrated his dedication to the project. Santosh's enthusiasm for learning about birds further grew through bird documentaries, where he gained insight into birds' prey, habitats, adaptations, and various species.

Occupation

Santosh wants to become a vegetable seller when he grows up because he wants to help the village to grow vegetables in a proper way so that the villagers would get some profit out of it. He already knew many things about the vegetable seller because he had seen many of the villagers growing vegetables in their fields and selling it in the weekly market. When he is asked some questions, then he takes a little time to answer. He had made a drawing of a vegetable seller and it was very beautiful.

Hindi

Santosh has shown significant improvement in his reading skills. He reads slowly but puts in a commendable effort. He has completed writing the alphabets and has started writing stories. While he makes some mistakes, he persists in his efforts. Santosh consistently has his notebook checked. He enjoys dictation and has improved his spelling abilities. While he occasionally faces difficulties in grammar, he actively seeks assistance and successfully resolves them. "Varna Vichhed" initially posed challenges, but practice has improved his understanding. He takes time to learn songs and poems but repeats them after the teachers. Santosh is also learning Havan chants, but some pronunciation challenges persist.

English

Santosh tends to be quiet most of the time during the English class. He has participated in reading, group dictation, story discussions after reading, and self-reading. However, he faces some challenges with reading, particularly with pronunciation. He often attempts to read words by breaking them down. In dictation, he needs improvement in spellings, but he tends to write words correctly when they are incorrect for others. His handwriting has shown some improvement and is neater than before.

Santosh is a quiet and innocent boy who remains alert in class, although it may take him a bit longer to understand what is being taught. He is well-behaved and never disrupts others. Santosh enjoys watching English movies, even if he has difficulty understanding the English language.

Odia

Santosh enjoys the class. He understands the language very little as he is unfamiliar with it. He finds difficulty in speaking in Odia. He has learnt some of the alphabets and enjoys playing the alphabets game. He also loves listening to stories.

Arts and Crafts

Santosh's passion in art class is consistently directed towards drawing birds. He has crafted bird body parts, mastered shading, and worked with oil pastels. Santosh remains focused and attentive in the class, resulting in drawings that are sometimes neat and precise. His joyful and quiet demeanour is well-received by peers.

Puzzles

Santosh is proficient with puzzles, handling pieces from 90 to 50. He enjoys collaborative puzzle-solving and is known for his good behaviour. He prefers working on larger puzzles, and when he finds one he likes, he dedicates himself to completing it. Santosh consistently follows didi's guidance.

Games and Sports

Santosh likes to play football and enjoys all sports related activities. His behaviour is good. He enjoys long treks.

Trip- For more details, refer to school report.

Celebrations

Santosh is a little shy on the stage while he is performing dramas or dance. He tries to hide and also speaks his dialogues very fast.
