Report for 2023-24 (First Term)

Maths

Ruhani is a very talkative girl; she'll only focus during class if she finds it interesting. Now she can do addition, subtraction, multiplication, and has confusion in division. To increase a better grip on addition and multiplication, lots of questions were given to show the number in the abacus. She is comfortable in measuring things in cubit and hand span. She was very happy doing an activity i.e. measuring the distance from ashram to school. She has difficulties in measuring things in mm, cm, and metres. She spends lots of time memorizing things; this has helped her in relating things. She takes interest in studying from the book and has finished book 2nd and now she is doing book 3. She will improve if she focuses and works a little hard.

Projects

Birds

Ruhani's fascination with birds led her to question their origins and behaviours. She delighted in exploring various aspects of birds, including their body parts, food, habitats, coloration, and size. Bird-watching outings in the forest allowed her to see numerous bird species, and she became adept at recognizing them by their calls and sounds. Ruhani's excitement was palpable when using binoculars for the first time during these outings. In class, she responded to questions, but she occasionally struggled to formulate complete sentences. Nevertheless, she actively engaged in drawing birds and writing about them in the group's bird-themed book. Her enthusiasm and curiosity grew as she gained a deeper understanding of birds through a documentary.

Occupation

Ruhani took the topic of a gardener because she wanted to learn new things about it and how they work and earn a profit. She already knew many things about the garden because she has already seen many of the people working in the garden. She liked taking this occupation topic because she wanted to learn many things about the works which the people are doing in our surroundings.

Hindi

Ruhani reads stories with fluency, and when she encounters challenging words, she promptly seeks clarification from her teachers. Her comprehension skills are impressive, particularly when she engages in self-reading. During weekly group reading sessions, she demonstrates proficient reading skills; however, her voice could be louder. Taking dictation poses no obstacle for her, with impeccable spelling and neatly formed handwriting. She has grasped the basics of grammar, including gender (ling), vand vichhed, and numbers (vachan). Her attentiveness during lessons has significantly contributed to her rapid understanding of these concepts. Ruhani exhibits a capacity to solve questions independently and consistently provides correct answers. While her engagement in the classroom is high, occasional disinterest results in drowsiness. Learning Havan mantras was initially daunting, but observing her peers' efforts kindled her interest, enabling her to memorise the recitations. She has also acquired several new songs and poems, exhibiting an enthusiasm for singing.

English

Ruhani's English class activities have included self-reading, dictation, and storytelling. She exhibits some distraction and restlessness during group reading. However, in group reading, Ruhani demonstrates her ability to break down words effectively. She is highly interested in reading and enthusiastically engages with books.

Ruhani is also highly talented and very interested in watching English movies. She can describe what happens in the movies and is quick to learn dialogue lines for plays. Despite occasional drowsiness, she effectively learns content while singing.

Odia

Ruhani enjoys the class although she understands the language very little. She tries to speak even if it is wrong. She enjoys listening to stories and singing songs. She has learnt all the alphabets and can recognize them well. She has learnt the names of different trees, flowers, animals and birds in Odia.

Arts and Crafts

She likes to do art, and she likes to make drawings of natures. She can draw whatever the task is given to her. She is very creative in drawing, art and craft she is always focused and cures to learn new things. Ruhani can draw anything she is told and her hand moves swiftly and freely.

Puzzles

Ruhani enjoys games like matching identical puzzles. She excels at solving 150-piece puzzles, completing them swiftly. When dealing with 500 pieces or more, she prefers collaborating with her friends. Ruhani approaches her puzzle-solving quietly and with a high level of interest, maintaining her focus throughout.

Games and Sports

Ruhani is in the Carbon group for games. She is active on the ground. She does running and exercises properly. She loves playing all type of games such as football, base kickball, dodgeball and other fun games. Her favourite game is football.
