Report for 2023-24 (First Term)

Introduction

Saurav is a regular child. He arrives at school before the scheduled time and loves to play in the sandpit. He enjoys having breakfast in the hostel and drinking milk. Saurav also has a fondness for eating all the vegetables and consistently finishes his food. At school, he brushes his teeth and takes a bath. After his bath, he changes his clothes in the group. He particularly enjoys decorating flowers for his mother and is friendly with his friends.

Circle Time

During circle time, Saurav sits nicely with closed eyes and chants all the rhymes loudly and clearly. Although he sometimes encounters difficulties pronouncing certain words, he often takes the lead in chanting. He likes to sing songs with actions, especially animal songs. While learning new songs, he may take some time to pronounce the words correctly, but he sings them loudly with actions, both in the group and in the assembly.

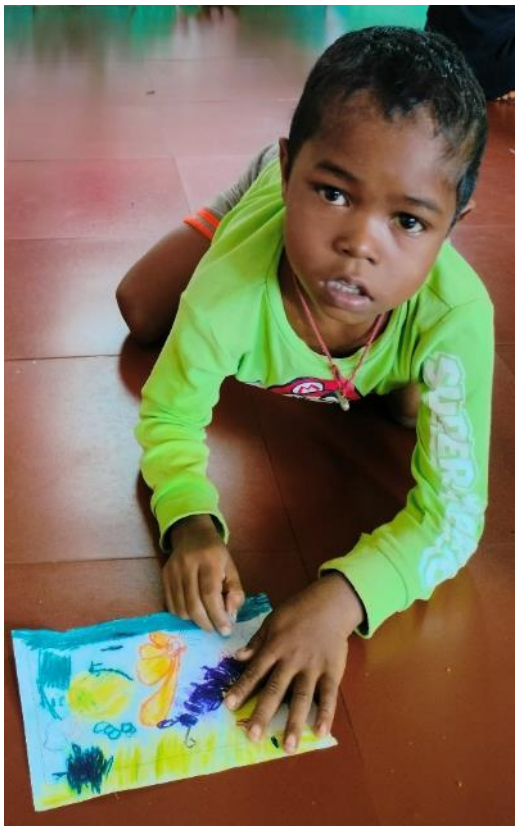
Languages

Hindi



Saurav enjoys listening to stories from picture books and puppets. He listens to stories attentively and can answer questions about the story. He can also retell the same story after listening. Saurav likes to engage in short dramas based on stories and can effectively communicate with his friends in Hindi.

In the "myself" topic, he created a book about himself through drawing and painting, which he presented in the unity group. He learned to introduce himself, talk about his favourite foods, his best friend, and his interests. He could articulate 10 lines about himself. In the "body parts" topic, he created images of his body parts through painting and drawing, and he learned about how they contribute to our well-being. He could describe 3 to 5 lines about each body part and actively participated in creating a creative song about body parts in group activities. In the "my family" topic, he learned about family relationships through role play and even visited a friend's family in the village. He made drawings of his family members and was able to provide 8 to 9 sentences about his family.

English

Saurav enjoys learning the English language through rhymes with actions and listening to stories from picture books. He can now understand the full story and tries to answer questions in English. He has learned words related to the environment in English. He has also learned to introduce himself in full sentences. Saurav has learned about family relationships through puppets and rhymes and can identify external body parts by referring to charts and touching his own body.

Mathematics

Saurav is an enthusiastic child who actively participates in math class, showing a keen interest in hands-on activities with materials like Rangometry and Judo blocks. He is creative in constructing patterns, designs, and models. However, he faces challenges when dealing with numbers, particularly when counting non-linear patterns like those in a constructed vehicle. He can count up to 100 using bead strings and can count backward from 20 to 1 without difficulty. But transitional numbers like 89, 79, and 69 sometimes confuse him. Despite his genuine interest in mathematics, he needs to develop a stronger understanding of numbers and their relationships to progress to more advanced concepts. Currently, he is learning to represent numbers (15, 17, 19, 50, 70) using stick bundles and express himself in complete sentences.

Skill work

He enthusiastically participates in all art class activities, aiming to finish them quickly and help others. He prefers drawing trees and forests, paying close attention to maintaining a clean workspace. He can fold paper properly and ensures it remains clean.
