Annual report for 2023-24 (Second term)

Introduction: Amrita is a four-year-old girl who has been attending the school since last year. She hails from a distant village and accompanies her father to school. Amrita has a deep fondness for attending school regularly. She exhibits remarkable politeness and sincerity, making her a cherished member of the classroom. She is amicable and enjoys interacting with her peers.

Circle Time: During circle time, Amrita demonstrates exemplary behaviour by sitting quietly with her eyes closed. She actively participates in chanting sessions and has memorized several chants such as "asatoma satgamaya," "om ananandmayee," "tat savitur varam Rupam," and "shri vakratunda maha kaya." Additionally, she has learned numerous songs including "chhoti si munni," "tan ho sundar," "stuti aaradhana," "nanhe munnhe bache," "row row row boat," "dhobi aaya," "nache re mor," "nache meri mor," "hathi aaya jhumke," "machli jal ki Rani hai," "lal lal motor," and "choti choti chidiya."

Activities: Amrita thoroughly enjoys engaging in activities, particularly drawing and colouring. She displays excitement while colouring and demonstrates the ability to colour neatly and swiftly. She enthusiastically participates in finger painting activities and delights in playing with paint colours. When provided with pictures to colour by her teacher, she eagerly takes up the task.

English: In English class, Amrita attentively sits and eagerly listens to stories while observing the corresponding pictures in the books. She actively repeats words after the teacher and endeavours to articulate them herself.

Math: Currently, Amrita has mastered counting up to twenty without assistance from her teacher. She enjoys collecting pebbles, leaves, and beads, using them for counting activities. Additionally, she takes pleasure in arranging objects to create flower designs.

Programs: Amrita eagerly participates in school programs and performances. On the Mother's birthday on February 21st, she performed an action song titled "O Sweet Mother." Although she experienced some nervousness on stage, she showcased her participation with enthusiasm.
