Report for 2023-24 (First Term)

Maths

Abhipsa is a very bright and smart child. She is always attentive and focused in class and does not hesitate to ask questions, if she has any. She can understand working with an abacus and can show numbers on the abacus up to three digits. However, she needs more practise in mental quick calculations (addition, multiplication). She has learnt addition, multiplication, and subtraction on the abacus through activities. Although she is a little slow in mental calculations, she is much better than before. Abhipsa is excellent in written calculations and has finished her 3rd book and is now doing the 4th book. Abhipsa has been working hard, and if she continues like this, her progress will surely be better.

Projects-

Family

She liked this topic because she learnt many things. She liked making the puppet. In the class she had drawn a family tree and she loved making it and colouring it. Abhipsa made all the drawings by herself. When she was making the puppet then she was not able to cut the drawings of the family members. When the teachers ask me any question then she was able to answer, and she finds it easy.

Birds

Abhipsa's fascination with birds led her to question their origins and behaviours. She delighted in exploring various aspects of birds, including their body parts, food, habitats, colouration, and size. Bird-watching outings in the forest allowed her to see numerous bird species, and she became adept at recognizing them by their calls. Abhipsa's excitement was palpable when using binoculars for the first time during these outings. In class, she responded to questions, but she occasionally struggled to formulate complete sentences. Nevertheless, she actively engaged in drawing birds and writing about them in the group's bird-themed book. Her enthusiasm and curiosity grew as she gained a deeper understanding of birds through a documentary.

Occupation

Abhipsa wants to become a teacher when she grows up because she wants to teach new things to the children so that the children would become and do something good in life. In the class when the teachers asked her some questions, then she was not able to answer some of them. She liked to do this topic because it was an easy chapter for her. She made a beautiful drawing of a teacher.

Hindi

Abhipsa is an attentive and intelligent student who eagerly participates in group activities. She exhibits the ability to read books fluently, articulating words accurately. Her comprehension skills are noteworthy, and she particularly enjoys self-reading. During weekly group reading sessions, her reading proficiency stands out, although she may become restless due to her faster pace compared to her peers. Writing skills are emerging, with legible handwriting that has potential for improvement. Dictation sessions reveal competent spelling abilities. Abhipsa has successfully learnt the fundamentals of grammar, including gender (ling), vand vichhed, and numbers (vachan). She is an active learner, readily absorbing the content presented during lessons. She demonstrates a strong aptitude for solving questions independently, consistently delivering correct answers. Abhipsa has undertaken the challenging task of learning Havan mantras, a task she approached with enthusiasm. Her proactive approach, including studying these mantras in her hostel at night, facilitated quick memorization. She has also mastered several new songs and poems.

English

Abhipsa is a quiet and focused student. Her reading skills are quite strong, and she reads fluently with good pronunciation. During reading activities, she sits attentively and pays close attention in class. In English, she has taken part in reading, storytelling, dictations, and group reading. Abhipsa consistently completes her assignments when given to her. She is capable of narrating stories she has read in English. Her handwriting is notably good.

Abhipsa is enthusiastic about learning songs, poems, and plays. She shows keen interest in everything taught in the classroom. Abhipsa rapidly learns her dialogue lines for plays, and her pronunciation is very good. She has an excellent memory for retaining what she learns for an extended period. Although she enjoys watching English movies, she needs to get accustomed to different dialects. She sings and recites poems beautifully.

Odia

Abhipsa studies Odia once a week. She is punctual for the class and is an obedient child. She takes interest in the class and therefore learns fast. She has learnt the difference between living things and non-living things and can name different things in Odia. She is able to understand as well as speak in Odia quite fluently. She has learnt the alphabets and can make simple words without using the matras. She enjoys singing songs.

Arts and Crafts

Abhipsa shows enthusiasm for both art and craft. She works with eagerness and shares colours with classmates. She excels in both oil pastels and shading, occasionally scolding friends when asked for colours. Abhipsa is a proactive and joyful participant in art class.

Puzzles

Abhipsa gravitates towards challenging puzzles and enjoys working on them with her friends. She maintains her enthusiasm throughout and efficiently completes the puzzles. When she finishes quickly, she is willing to help others in the class. Her approach to puzzle-solving is marked by silence and an effort to finish quickly.

Games and Sports

She is punctual in her games. She is a physically fit and strong girl. Before playing, she like to do warm up. She likes to do various sports activities very energetically. In the yoga class, she likes all difficult asana and her performance is awesome. Her body is quite elastic.
