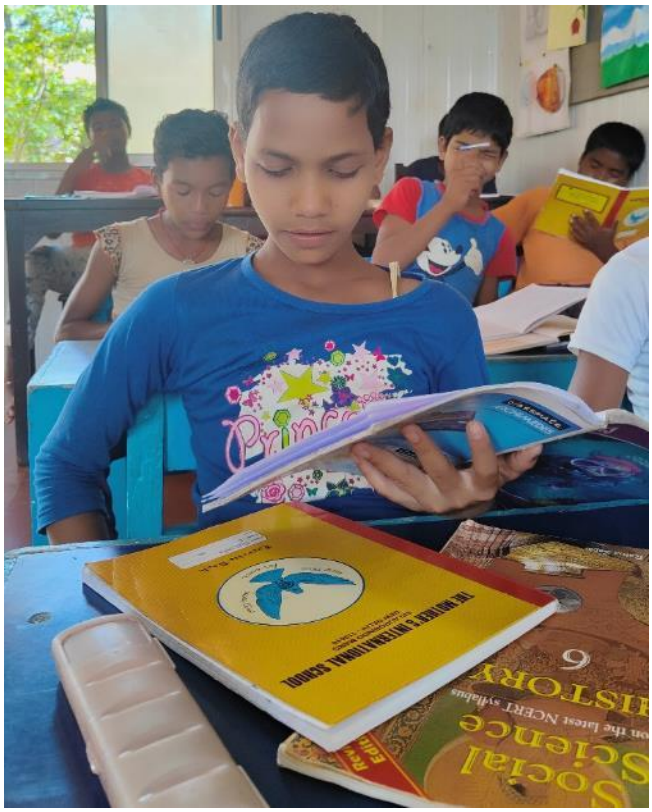
ENGLISH



In my English class, I focus on doing book work, and I study a different subject each day. Additionally, we watch movies on Sundays, and I've watched several films such as "Free Willy," "Little Princess," "Two Brothers," and "Charlie Chaplin." Watching movies has helped me improve my speaking and sentence formation. Sometimes, I am not on time for the English class.

In grammar, I work from the grammar book, and our teachers, including Sangita Didi, Bina Didi, Kamli Didi, and Bikanti Didi, teach us about verbs, nouns, and adjectives. Bikanti Didi sometimes assigns homework for us to complete. I pay attention during my English class and don't sleep.

During free reading, I read attentively, although occasionally I might feel sleepy. In group reading, I have read many books, including "The Magic Finger," "The Witch," "The BFG," "Black Beauty," and "George's Marvellous Medicine." Sometimes, after group reading, Bikanti Didi gives us dictation.

Additionally, Sangita Didi taught us poems, including the "Who" poem and the "Tree" poem. I thoroughly enjoy my English class.

HINDI

Sasmita is engaged in the 4th-grade "Abhyas Pustak." She consistently seeks to understand the chapters, though she could also work on understanding them independently. While she finds some chapters more manageable, others slow her down. Her strong inclination for grammar is evident in the speed with which she comprehends the chapters and correctly answers questions. Weekly group reading sessions with her friends are part of her routine. While she may take time to find the correct words, her determination to focus on her reading performance shines through. After completing a story, she tackles dictation, actively working on improving her spelling and handwriting. Sasmita participated in the play "Andher Nagri Chopat Raja" on the 5th of July, where she confidently portrayed the role of a "Soldier" with loud and clear dialogue delivery, despite initial nervousness on stage. She also showcased her poetic talents, writing a poem for Raksha Bandhan and singing songs. Her love for singing is evident. Improved attentiveness in the classroom would yield even better results.

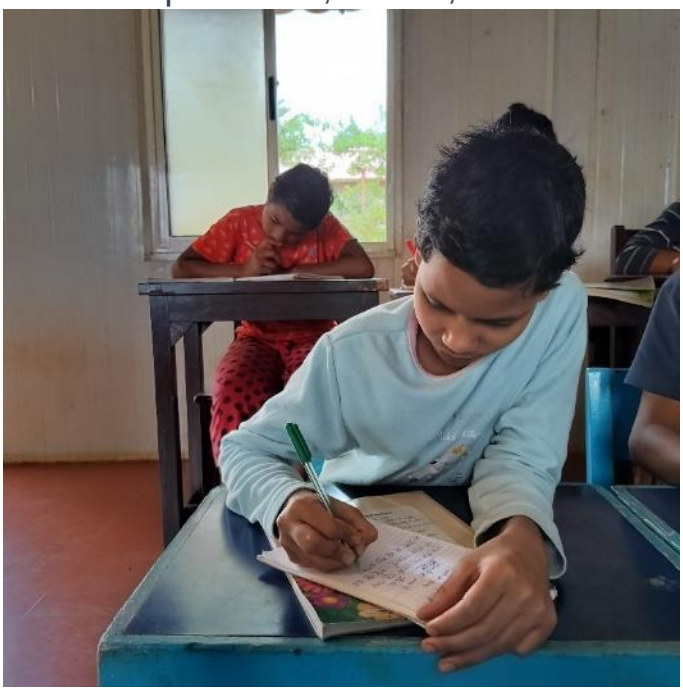
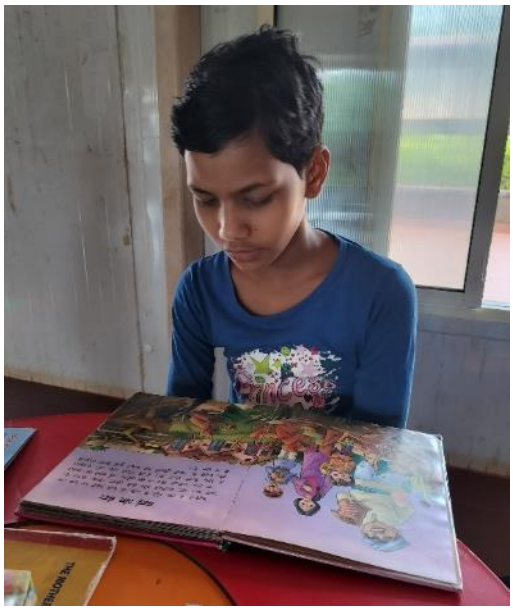
MATHS

Sasmita is a diligent student currently studying the 4th-grade book. She has already been introduced to chapters on fractions, the unitary method, perimeter, area, and time.



Sasmita is quick-witted and makes a sincere effort to answer the questions provided to her. When topics are taught through group activities, she actively participates, although she tends to be quieter during regular class discussions. However, if she encounters questions she cannot answer, she's not hesitant to ask the teacher for clarification.



Sasmita is an attentive student who doesn't disrupt her classmates and prefers to sit quietly. She demonstrates proficiency in all her topics and can answer all questions provided. In the chapter on time, she faces a slight challenge in converting 12-hour clock times into 24-hour clock times, but with help from her friends and teacher, she strives to and tackle it.

Sasmita is very sweet and has a humble nature. She is very punctual and finishes her homework on time. She participates in all the activities with great enthusiasm. During discussion time, she expresses her thoughts clearly and speaks with confidence. She completes each task given to her on time and is sincere in whatever she does. Whenever she has a query, she first writes it down and asks it, and then she writes the answer in her own words. She has been working very hard on her speaking skills because she has difficulties in speaking in English. She is always cheerful, and if she receives low scores on her tests, she first understands the questions and then answers them correctly. She is very possessive and, if she works a little harder, she will make great progress. She is very practical and capable of relating the text to everyday life examples. She has good handwriting but needs to work on her spelling. She has finished the 4th-grade book and started the 5th-grade book.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Sasmita maintains a quiet demeanour in the class. She has just completed her civics and is now continuing with history. Her score from the civics book was eight and a half out of fifty-five. She enjoys studying history but sometimes faces challenges with question answers. She's working on enhancing her handwriting and her participation in group discussions, showing dedication to achieving better marks. She is gradually striving to attain improved results.

ODIA

Sasmita is proficient in Odia and speaks softly. She has a strong command of both the alphabets (Byanjana Barna) and matras. She can speak, read, and write quite well and is continuously making improvements in the language. Sasmita performs well in dictation and listens to stories with great interest. She is able to retell and write down the stories she hears.

COMPUTER

ARTS

Sushmita finds joy in art class, where she receives guidance from her teacher and engages in various forms of art. Her drawing skills are continually improving. She has delved into hanging crafts, collage creation, shape drawing, and other artistic endeavours. Sushmita is actively developing her ability to draw scenes from nature and completes all her work with care and precision.

DANCE

I enjoy attending dance class where I get to learn and perform different dances. Suparna didi, Gauri didi, and Brishti didi are our dance teachers, and they guide us through various dance forms. In our dance class, we cover many different dance styles. I generally love attending dance class, but sometimes I struggle with certain steps. In those moments, I approach didi and ask for help. I find it helpful to request their guidance when I'm unsure about certain dance steps.

Our dance class takes place on Mondays, and it's a great opportunity for us to learn various dance styles. I particularly enjoy learning classical dances like Bharatnatyam and Kathak under the guidance of Suparna didi. I always look forward to our dance classes and find them very enjoyable.

MUSIC

Sasmita actively and appropriately participates in group flute playing. She has successfully learned to play all seven notes and enjoys practicing exercises to enhance her fingering skills. Sasmita faces challenges when playing in non-linear patterns and is working towards mastering each note.

GAMES

Sushmita prefers playing basketball over the other games they play. She always does exercises with her friends and teammates, performing them properly because she finds them beneficial for her body. She encourages others to do the same.

CELEBRATIONS

20th June Rath Yatra

On this special occasion of Rath Yatra, I enjoyed myself immensely. I was very happy and danced to my heart's content. I also lent a hand in pulling the Rath from the school to the boys' hostel. I enjoyed dancing with my friends very much.

5th July School's birthday

I, along with my friends, participated in the drama of 'Andher Nagri,' where I took on the role of a king's guard. I played my role confidently and without any stage fright.

15th August Independence Day

On this day, I participated in a play about the freedom struggle where children from other classes also participated. I had the role of a messenger of the queen, and I had memorized my dialogues very well. I learnt many facts about our independent India.

30th August Raksha Bandhan

I, along with my friends, sang the song 'Dhago Se Bandha.' I was very confident while singing this song as I was not alone on the stage. I tied a Rakhi to Anamika and fed her laddoo.

7th September Janmashtami

On this day, our group of Perseverance sang a song, 'Tum Prem Ho Tum Preet Ho,' which was taught to us by Jayu didi and Neela didi in just a few days. I enjoyed learning this song from them.

19th September Ganesh Chaturthi

Ganesh Chaturthi is very much liked by me. On this special day, I, along with my friends, danced to the song 'Ekdantaya Vakratundaya.' I faced a little difficulty in grasping the steps, but on the performing day, I was dancing fairly well. I was nervous at first but later forgot all my fears and danced freely.
