SCHOOL REPORT

1st Term

April to September 2012

The school has 79 students. 53 of these are boarders and the rest are day-scholars. We did not increase the number of students due to unavailability of water in the new school building. The water will be made available through bore-wells drilled immediately after the monsoons.

Getting teachers and volunteers is a challenge as people consider Kechla a remote place. Those who stay a few months stay on and do not want to go back.

100% Attendance in 2011-12 - The School runs for 365 days in a year. Except for the very small children, most children attend school regularly and the total number of days they are absent is in single digits. There were six children who had a 100% attendance in 2011-12. A bank account was opened for all these children with a deposit of Rs 1,000.

Schedule - Auro-Mira Vidya Mandir is a free progress school.

Meals: Breakfast is at 8 am, lunch is from 12 noon to 12:45 pm. The children go group-wise and age-wise with the Flower group going at noon and Faith and other groups at 12:30 pm. Snacks are at 4:30 pm and dinner at 8 pm. Meals are vegetarian and we have a specific menu for each day.

Activities: The day starts at 5:30 am, though some children get up before that. The children of Faith, New have been divided into three groups and by rotation they take turns between Yogasana, Bharat Natyam and Shramdan. Children usually take bath in the evening between 4pm - 5 pm after games.

The children assemble in the Meditation Hall at 6:30 pm every day. They meditate, chant, sing bhajans and carols and then sing all types of songs in English, Hindi, Sanskrit, Oriya and other regional languages. They do plays, listen to stories and create their own stories.

The new songs the children have learnt during these six months are: Sanskrit - Shri Ramchandra Kripalu, Anna Graham Karne Se, Trishul Tandav Uma Maheshwar; English - Red is Amma's Bindi, Listen to the Chime, I Love You, I have a body, a very busy body, Ducks Like Rain, All I need is within me now, The more we get together, In Hindi- Ye Kaun Chitrakar Hai, Man Ke Sukhsagar Mein, Lage Vrindavan Niko, Ishwar Sheesh Jhukate Hain Ham, Mere Desh Ki Dharti, Tera Mangal Mera Mangal, Suraj Ki Kirane Aati Hai, Subah Hui Ujala Hua, Om Jai Jagdish, Prem Mudit Man Se Kaho, Tak Dhina Dhin Dhin, Kabuliwala, Phoolon Se Ham Hansna Seekhein, Banao Hamein Veer Yoddha, Majhi Re Majhi, Thandi Thandi Hawa Khane, In Kumaoni- Ber Pako Bar Masa, Khadi Yamuna Ke, Marathi song- Mani Taara Mandaryama.

Trip to Bhubaneshwar, Cuttack, Puri and Konark:

Ten children of New Creation Group and four children of Faith group attended the camp from 18th to 20th April at Bhubaneshwar organized by Falcon Movement, an NGO.

Children went to the Regional Natural Museum and they saw a movie on wild animals. On one of the evenings they sang songs. There was an Aeronautics college close to the camp, which they presented at night before the group. On one of the evenings they sang songs.

There was an Aeronautics college close to the camp so we were taken to see helicopter and airplane models on display. The children were fascinated and asked many questions about how the machines work and where the engines are etc.

Right in front of the college was a Science Park where there were models displaying how hydro-electricity works, how solar energy works and the children enjoyed pedalling a cycle that powered a light bulb. They were also shown a movie on the evolution of the earth. Since we had done the topic here in school, the children were able to relate well.

We also made a visit to the Khandagiri caves. We saw sculptures of Buddha and of the Jain saints.

On the last day of the camp we went to the zoo where we saw many animals.

We also made a visit to Dr. Chandrashekhar Rath's home where the children interacted with him about their visit to Bhubaneswar.

Our next stop was Cuttack. We stayed at Matru Bhawan for a week. From there we made day trips to the temples of Konark and Puri. In Puri we went to the Jagannath temple and then to the beach. There the children saw many artists making sculptures in the sand. The children also saw a camel for the first time.

We also visited Dalijoda ashram near Cuttack. The ashram in-charge, Dharanidhar bhai was very hospitable and gave the children a tour of his garden and nursery where they breed earthworms. He showed the children a number of medicinal plants and told them about how the earthworms help in turning the soil.

After our visit to the ashram we went to an integral school at Tailipada in Bentakar block of Cuttack District where we had been invited to share with them the benefits of Free Progress Education. The children put up a play, told stories and sang songs for all those gathered in the audience.

We also had the pleasure of meeting the MLA from Cuttack, Mr. Debashish Samantray. He showed us around, taking us to the Barabati stadium, the Barabati fort, the Chandi temple and also the deer park. However the most memorable visit was to the home where Subhas Chandra Bose was born.

Spoken English Camp for teachers at Delhi

The chief purpose of education, in Sri Aurobindo's and the Mother's view, is to awaken and draw out the innate, latent and veiled 'divine perfection' that already exists in the learner. In an attempt to translate this profound philosophy into practice, the Ashram conducted a free residential Accelerated English Speaking Course from 19th May to 27th June 2012 for 35 participants, including 19 teachers from 5 schools of Odisha. Five teachers Jogi Bhaiya, Niharika, Babita, Surekha, and Bina from Auro-Mira Vidya Mandir also attended the program.

Tara Didi flagged-off the program on 19th May 2012 by setting of the guidelines for code of conduct during the stay at the Ashram and introducing the Workshop-coordinator Mrs. Aradhana Kumar and the faculty to the participants. Didi told the participants that while staying at the Ashram the student teachers become an integrated part of the larger community, participating in the various programs organized by the Ashram.

To be a professional entails not just sharing information but releasing that tremendous potential within a young, growing person to the fullest. Also it entails working on oneself. To facilitate this purpose, the daily Schedule involved Shramdan, Workshops: Kitchen, Handmade paper, Tapasya, Tailoring, Computer, Games, Yoga & Meditation in between the English Classes which were held for 6 hours per day in 3 sessions of 2 hours each.

The English class began daily with chanting the Invocation & Peace mantras. The course content included: Introductions; Vocabulary; Grammar; Sentence Formation; Conversation& Telephone Handling; Asking Questions; Story Telling & Enacting; Giving Instructions; Reading And Comprehension; Preparing Speeches; Presentations; Preparing for an Interview; Integral Education &The Three Principles of True Teaching. 13 Volunteers contributed to teaching and successful completion of the course.

The certificates of Mirambika Research Centre and books as gifts with The Mother and Sri Aurobindo's blessings were given away by Indu didi at the Certificate Distribution ceremony held in the Meditation Hall on 27th July at 9.30a.m. On behalf of Tara Didi, Mrs. Aradhana Kumar gave books as blessings from The Mother to the volunteer teachers. Group snap brought the event to a close.

Children have been encouraged to collect the little money they get. Whenever a guest comes to visit anyone, they give a rupee or two to the children. Hari takes the money from his sisters also and deposits it with Didi in school. At the time of this episode, Hari had Rs 71 (less than $1.50). When asked what he would do with the money, Hari said that he is collecting to have enough to purchase a motorcycle. At the time of this episode, Hari had the maximum money and no child had close to his deposit. This is the background of the dialogue below. ## Auro - Mira Vidya Mandir

SCHOOL REPORT

2nd Term, October 2012 - March 2013

The child is not only a mind to be trained, but a consciousness that must be helped to grow and widen itself.

- Sri Aurobindo

Driven by the light and hope that we receive from the above said words, the Auro-Mira Vidya Mandir continues to move relentlessly towards a determined, purposeful and an adventurous journey. Blessed by the beauty and the calm of nature around, it has been our sincere endeavour to bring a joyful quietude into the lives of the 95 children who reside in the school. We have just completed the 2nd term of 2012-2013 and are looking forward towards the months to come.

So what's new!

Deeply involved in all matters of the school, children from the older groups were given the responsibility of bringing in younger children from their villages. Taking keen interest in this, they were able to convince their parents and relatives into sending younger children to the school.

As a result 16 new children, between the ages of three and four made an entry into our school. Their inclusion added a new colour to the school, and the group was rightfully christened 'rainbow' by the older children.

Evolving together

We have also initiated a study circle for the spiritual development of our faculty members this year. Held once a week, it is an opportunity for our teachers to share, read and chant together.

The school faculty also meets every Monday afternoon where they discuss and read books related to education.

On the 5th of every month the entire school community sits in the morning to chant some shlokas and mantras together. In the evening the teachers and some children sit to read 'Savitri', an epic by Sri Aurobindo.

A small step forward by the school, a giant leap for the children!

Hostel Building with Makeshift Classes

New School Building

With a sense of pride, our children took their small, but firm steps towards the new school building that had been inaugurated last year, and has now become functional. The school has 16 classrooms, a meditation hall and two rooms which have been assigned as science laboratories. Each of the 16 classrooms have been assigned to a particular subject or an activity. In the Maths Lab the children work on their mathematical abilities exclusively, while the art & craft room is used primarily to enhance their creative skills. Similarly, the games room houses various levels of increasingly challenging puzzles and blocks to act as brain-teasers for the children. The building also has an office, two activity rooms and 10 toilets.

Apart from this, the children have rolled their floor beddings aside and climbed up to more colourful bunk beds. The 'climbing activity' each night has not only led to more excitement but also with one or two children deciding to tumble down! The children also have tables and chairs for classroom use now.

The teachers and the students have worked tirelessly into transforming each activity, every event and the most mundane chores into a 'joyous togetherness'; making the school truly unique.

In the last six months our children have had numerous opportunities to explore, to review, to reflect and to implement what they have learnt, with the teachers by their side, always. Many projects were undertaken by the children, and emphasis was laid on experiential learning. The several events, celebrations and visitors to the school were also opportunities to learn new things.

Music, Dance and Sports

'The crackling laughter of a child is music to my ears'

Over the last few months, the children have developed a fascination for musical instruments. While they always enjoyed and appreciated music, their interest in the instruments is new-found. A dholak has found place in their everyday rendition of devotional music in the meditation hall.

They have also learnt several new songs in different languages. Some of these songs are:

Sanskrit: Devi Namaste, JananiPaadavandana, ChiraSundara Sri Aurobindo jai

Hindi: JagoJago Re, Hai re kasambajra

English: Make your children, Drummer boy, Frosty the snowman, away in a manger, Living water, Joy to the world, we Three Kings, Rudolf The red-nosed reindeer

Oriya: A as eeierurururu, Amesabutikitikiphula

Dancing with gay abandon

Who does not like to groove and shake a leg sometimes? Our children have enjoyed learning new dance moves and forms.

Dance Drama on Shishu Parab

In the last six months, they have learnt the folk dance of Punjab–Bhangra and a western folk dance. They have also been exposed to Kathak. Though all the three forms are distinctly different, the children enjoyed all three equally.

The school has always encouraged the children to be in touch with their mother tongue, their local festivals, songs and dance. As a result the children are now taken to their respective villages, where they participate in the village celebrations by singing their local songs as well as taking part in their folk dancing.

'Every single cell of my body has fun, as I hop, skip, jump and run'

Sports are an integral part of the curriculum at our school. The children enjoy all sporting activities especially football, relay racing and fun games. Most of the children have also learnt cycling in the last few months, and can be seen zipping in and around the school campus. A new basketball court has been made, and the children have been learning to dribble the ball. The children are also learning to play table tennis. Gymnastics and physical exercises like making pyramids etc. are part of the regular physical education in the school and are enjoyed by the children immensely.

Shishu Parab

Apart from the outdoor games, indoor games are equally fascinating for the children. The school now has a space where the children also play carom, ludo, chess and snakes & ladder. In the true spirit of not giving up, some of our older children have been trying their 'feet' at skating, and are improving with each passing day.

Health

Striving for a healthy mind, body & soul

Right from the initiation of the school, good health and hygiene has always been given a lot of emphasis. Under the supervision of the group didis & bhaiyas, the children clean their rooms, cupboards, stack their clothes and belongings, as well as lay their beds neatly every single day. On Sundays all children in the school get turmeric or a neem bath to keep skin infections at bay. As part of shramdan, the children have been trained to clean their toilets as well.

REIKI Class

Rajeev bhaiya along with his daughter Barkha from Mumbai spent ten days in the school. They conducted a Reiki workshop with the teachers, highlighting both the theory and the practical elements of this practice.

Dr. Pradhan and Dr. Raj Gupta from The Mother's Integral Health Centre of Sri Aurobindo Ashram-Delhi Branch visited the school and held discussions with children of Faith group on First aid and guided Bina on how to arrange and store the medicines.

Dr. Gouda, Dr. Mahapatra and Dr. Mishra from Koraput. They did health check-up for the children, and also provided the school with medicines.

Ms. Suriya assisted by a colleague from Auroville held the Dental Camp at the school. They did dental check-up and also gave a demonstration on how to brush and keep the teeth clean.

Dr. Divya and Dr.Lalit from England came to the school and stayed at the school for a week and conducted a complete health check-up for 80 children of the school.

What Dr. Divya and Dr.Lalit had to say.....

“We came with an intention to teach (Health & Hygiene) but instead have come back being taught by the happiest bunch of kids that I have ever seen. During our two weeks stay we never saw any children quarrelling or fighting. Jealousy is something that these kids are not aware of and for them jealousy is non-existence.

On the 14 January I saw the kids celebrating the kite festival and they taught me that one does not really need material to enjoy but an outlook towards life is all you need
 The ever helping attitude, care and concern of the elder group of children towards the younger kids is something that seems to come out of some fairy tale. The kids were a wonder to behold,
Seeing is Believing is what we have learnt.”

Outstation Visits

'Forests and mountains I explore, I want to know more and more'

The school was abuzz with excitement as two outstation trips were planned for the children in the last six months. Ten children from the 'Faith' and the 'New Creation' group had a great opportunity to visit Deomali, the highest peak in Odisha. They also had a lot of fun, playing and splashing water at the huge waterfall near the peak.

A Brief Report of their trip up to Panchgani

The trip was very special as it was for the first time that the entire New Creation group of fourteen children went for an outstation trip, together. The trip to Panchgani was planned at the invitation of Ms. Mona Patrao who runs an eco-organic farm. The group spent about three to four days in Pune, and about a week in Panchgani. The first few days at Panchgani were spent in trying to experiment and experience different kinds of food and the various ways in which food can be cooked. In an attempt to improve their culinary skills, the children assisted Mona didi as she taught them to make strawberry cream and shakes, soup, some Maharashtrian dishes like dhanshak, Thai red curry and even pasta. The children enjoyed this to the core.

While at Panchgani, Vishwas Bhaiya visited the kids and conducted an elaborate session on alternate energy. He explained how and why wind and solar energy can be used as great alternatives to conventional forms of energy. Mona didi added to the session by explaining global warming to the children. She also shared some information on gobar gas. The children had a first-hand experience of making gobar gas by actually working in the plant. This was a great learning experience for the children.

To add some more fun to the visit, there was a story-telling session by Nehal didi. The story was then enacted by the children and they made illustrations for the same.

Gunvant Bhaiya, an avid bird-watcher himself took the children for some bird-watching experience in the Lingyana forest, one of the thickest forests in Panchgani. A one day trek was also organized for them to the Gureghar forest where Mona didi explained some important facts about unusual trees. She elaborated further by explaining the difference between a mono-culture and poly-culture forest. In an attempt to have some cultural exchange, the children also visited the Sanjivan School in Panchgani.

A Brief Report of their trip up to Pune

Fourteen children of Auro-Mira Vidya Mandir, a school in a tribal area of Odisha run by Auro-Mira Service Society based in New Delhi, started from Kechla on 8th March 2013 by train and reached Durg at 5:15 am. The train for Pune was later in the forenoon and there was sufficient time for an excursion in to the town of Durg. These children had never seen a Gurudwara before, and it was a good opportunity to visit one on the Station Road. As the children were doing pranam, a few residents of the Gurudwara began conversing with the children and invited them to stay back for Breakfast. Bread, jam and milk for tea were fetched from the market and in the meantime, the children started cleaning the Langar hall and soiled utensils from the preceding night's meal.

Later, Mrs and Mr Jotwani of Durg provided lunch in such an ample and generous measure that sufficient leftovers could be packed for their dinner as well.

At 7 pm on 10th March, Shri Ashutosh Bhupatkar of Pune was at the station to receive the group. He had kindly arranged a bus which was to be at our disposal throughout our stay in Pune. He also spent a lot of his precious time with the group. The arrangement for stay was made at Kamayani, Near Patrakar Nagar and the facilities were wonderful. The NGO Kamayani is run by Dr. Arvind Kulkarni, Chairman, Mr Ashutosh Bhupatkar, Vice-Chairman and Mr Kalidas Supate, Jt Secretary. During the entire 3 day stay in Pune, Mr Makarand Kulkarni and Mr Shriram Bhavde of Kalpak Caterers provided delicious meals to the children ex gratia. After a sumptuous breakfast, we visited Shaniwarwada old fort and Lal Mahal Palace. The children were very curious about the fort, its history, the plants, flowers and the birds in that area. The children spent a lot of time in the museum. After that Ashutosh bhai treated the children to wonderful Sugarcane juice which none of them had ever tasted. Except for Nila, everyone liked it immensely.

We were back for lunch. All meals on this day were special Vrat dishes as it was Shivaratri. After a short nap, the children went for a walk to the Vetar Tekari or hill. The children observed many birds such as Parakeet, Pea hen, Bulbul. They also saw a mongoose. We visited the Vetala Temple on top of the hill and saw the sunset from there. We returned and after prayers had dinner. We then went to see a Shivaratri procession.

Ice episode- On our way, we were crossing a cart selling Chuski (grated Ice with sugar syrup). The vendor was busy grating the ice and a piece of the same fell on the road. All the children were watching intently and they pounced on the Ice which had broken into small pieces. This was another first for them since they had never seen ice before. People all around were surprised with the reaction of the children.

The children were fascinated to see large drums and gongs and men dancing on the rhythm, dance with lathis, Large Shiva statue on a tractor trailer and many other groups performing in the procession.

On our return the children had strawberry Ice-cream. It was a first time experience for all of them. Some of them did not like the taste or found it too cold but the majority relished it.

11th March- The day started with a pre-breakfast walk on the road, observing the city waking up. We visited the Zoo and the snake park in the morning. The children were very thorough in their observation and spent a lot of time there. After a wonderful lunch the children went to Kamayani School for Mentally Handicapped children. They spent an hour with the children in the classrooms. They sang, did paper folding and heard the singing of Kamayani School children. They spent an hour after this at the workshops at Kamayani where the older special people were working. This was a wonderful learning experience to see how a very difficult task can be done efficiently by dedication.

At 4 pm we went to Parvati Hill Temple. The museum was fascinating. It was a beautiful experience to observe the city from the peak of the Hill.

After 7 pm the children observed skating classes and were enthused and wanted to learn skating themselves.

12th March- We started with the Gultekdi market yard. This is supposed to be the second largest wholesale market for fruits, vegetables and flowers. The children were very inquisitive. One shopkeeper gifted them 2 Kg grapes. After a while they wanted to taste a new fruit. As they had never tasted a melon, we enquired the price of the same and were told that it was Rs 50 each. Hari said that he had seen one fallen in the middle of the busy road. We went back and collected it. After a while we found another one on the road. The children were happy to have saved Rs 100. They also found a few more fruits in the same way and were gifted a water-melon by another shopkeeper. We purchased some oranges for the children. At dinner time when the children had the fruits, they collected all the seeds for planting in their school.

Trip up to Pune & Panchgani

At Sarasbaug garden, children had a grand time observing the birds, fishes and flowers. The children were invited to Gurukul School. They were treated to a good lunch and after that they gave a performance which was applauded so warmly by the teachers that the children were really touched.

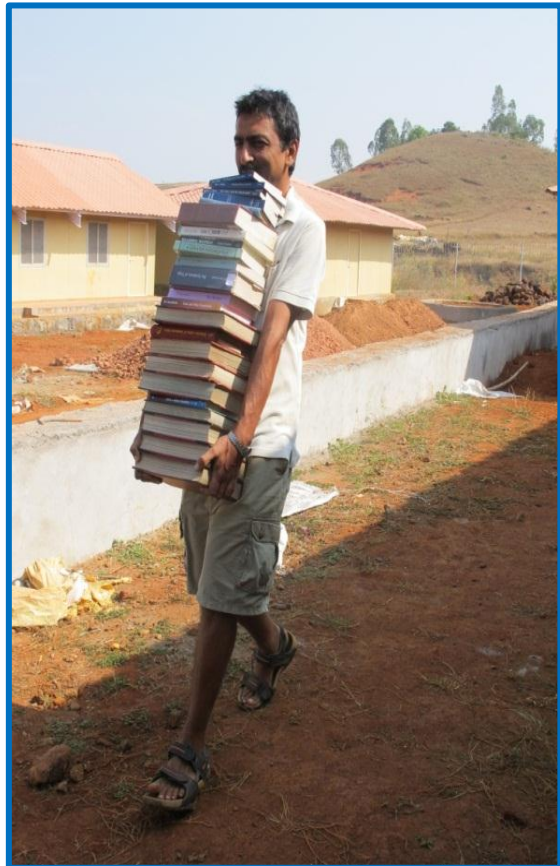

The dinner at Kamayani was a real treat. The children had an unlimited number of Gulab Jamuns. They had never had any sweet to their heart's content in their life and were not aware that it was possible to have so many without anyone stopping them. The kitchen staff also went and purchased biscuits for the children from their personal money. To express their appreciation, children prepared and presented thank you cards to everyone at Kamayani.

The kitchen staff had a television on which they would watch movies frequently. They realised on the first day itself that the children were not allowed to watch movies. It is also noteworthy that from that day on, they would only watch Discovery or Animal Planet when the children were around.

Coming from a purely tribal background, the children were overwhelmed with the variety and tastiness of foods, the sight of wonderful places, their comfortable accommodation, and the warmth of people who extended such generous hospitality to them during their visit to the historical city of Pune. As a distinct gesture of their appreciation, the AMVM children presented several crayon pictures to officials in the Kamayani Workshop. The pictures the children had themselves painted.

'Basking in your glory, I seek books for company, O' Goddess of learning'

Our library which has now been moved to the new building is well-stocked with books from numerous genres. We have more than 15,000 books in the library. Open to all children at all times, it is a sacred space in the school premise. The children are encouraged to read and refer to books.

I take pride in my abilities, but with humility

The children of our school received an invitation from Mr. Sachin R. Jadhav, the collector of Koraput to perform at a state level cultural program 'parab'.

The children put up an exhibition, and performed a dance-drama and also displayed their skill in Bharatnatyam. Children from the other participating schools showed a lot of interest in the teaching-learning methodology of our school, and directed their questions to Pranjal bhaiya who was also present on that occasion.

The children performed so well that this invitation was followed by another invitation by the DIG of the Border Security Force, Mr Akhileshwar Kumar to perform for the BSF day at Koraput.

Celebrations

Happy days are here to stay

Celebrating local as well as national festivals has always been a part of our culture at the school, right from its inception. Adding gaiety and colour to the school environ, our children immersed themselves in preparing for these festivities.

We celebrated the birthday of Mahatma Gandhi on 2nd October. Some children narrated stories from the life of the Mahatma, and the entire school joined in to sing 'vaishnavojana to' and 'Raghupati Raghav Raja Ram'. In the afternoon the children also watched a movie on the life of the Father of the Nation.

Durgastotra was recited by the children of the New Creation group on Dushera. This was followed by the festival of lights – Diwali which has always been a favourite with the children. The celebration started with an invocation to Goddess Kali followed by some dancing and chanting by the children.

Diyas made by the children of the Concentration group were lit at night in the hostel premises. With a deep sense of reverence they also lit some lamps in the meditation hall as well as in the Ashram in the evening.

Sri Aurobindo's siddhi diwas was celebrated with great enthusiasm by the children on November 24th, 2012. The day began with meditation and flag hoisting in the morning. This was followed by shifting to the new school, where a meditation and a chanting session was conducted again by the children. Seeking the blessings of The Mother, each group then took a 'light of aspiration' to place it in their new classrooms.

Pranjal Bhaiyas birthday was celebrated with a lot of love by the children on the 29th of November, 2012. A havan and a cultural program were organized on that day. The children of the New Creation and the Faith group performed plays entitled 'Our India' and 'Ekaurchaupat raja' respectively.

Sri Aurobindo's Mahasamadhi day was observed on the 5th of December, 2012 by all the children and the teachers of the school.

Santa Claus visited the school on the 25th of December, bringing joy and festivity. Goodies and chocolates were also gifted to all the children by Santa. All the children celebrated this day with a lot of fun and Christmas carols. In the afternoon the teachers played some innovative games with the children. These games had been created by the teacher's themselves.

On the auspicious occasion of Makar Sankranti all the groups made presentations about how this day is celebrated in different parts of the country. The four older groups made cuisine from four different states of India on this day. The children presented a puppet show in the morning, and also enjoyed flying kites during the day.

Kartik bhaiya narrated the significance of the Republic day on the 26th of January 2013 and the children watched the parade on television.

Basant Panchmi was celebrated with a collective meditation session and singing of devotional songs and chanting.

21st February is a special day, for it is The Mother's birthday. It was celebrated with great devotion and delight, as the children presented a cultural program that included singing and many other activities. The Concentration group presented a play and the New Creation group recited the poem 'Blue Bird' by Sri Aurobindo. Children from all the groups sang the song 'make your children battle ready Mother' at the end of the program. In the afternoon a march-past was conducted during which the children saluted The Mother's flag.

On the 27th of February, the entire school community gathered to pay their homage to late

Ms. Anuradha Sapru Kohls, in whose memory the new school building has been built. They chanted the 'Maha Mritunjaya mantra' 108 times and prayed for the departed soul.

29th March is a day to remember for us at the school. It was on this day that The Mother arrived from France to Puducherry. The children sat for a special meditation session, seeking the grace of The Mother.

The children from both schools spent time together doing various activities and reading books together. They taught our children some songs, and to dance on a song from the Bollywood film 'Tare Zameen par'. They also taught them some Bhangra.

As the day of Holi occurred during the middle of the camp, students gathered on the shore of the reservoir to paint & decorate each other and had great fun. Comments by a couple of campers deserve special mention:

"I got the opportunity to teach the children of Faith group drama and reading, and I realised how efficiently resources can be managed and how one can make do with little. We the children of privileged [class] keep cribbing about things we don't have, though we have much more than we need," wrote T.C.

".. What was really breath-taking was looking at the night sky. The Nature and landscape here look like they've been individually designed to every pixel.. And how could I forget Pranjal's talks with his disturbing opinion[s] which I could debate for hours," opined an articulate A.C.

Crossing another milestone.....Looking ahead

The last six months that have gone by, have been fulfilling and joyous in every way. A lot has been learnt, our children have grown, and the school has taken another step ahead. For us there is no looking back, as we welcome the times to come with open arms and a prayer on our lips.

A. Health Camps and Medical Activities At Village Kechla, Dist-Koraput, Odisha

Camp & Medical Treatment:

1. Dr. Suriya accompanied by her husband and friend came to Kechla for a week. During this time they conducted a dental check-up of the children as well as the teachers. The doctors finished cleaning the teeth and did the filling and sealants. They found that generally all the students' oral hygiene was good, they were brushing their teeth properly.
2. Dr. Divya and Dr.Lalit from England came to the school and stayed at the school for a week and conducted a complete health check in January 2013. In the hostel they did the medical check-up of all the children. Total number checked 80. They felt that the diet needs to include protein and somewhere between 0.8 and 1 gram of protein per kilogram would be a protein recommendation for vegetarians. The best source of protein would be from Beans, Lentils and Legumes, Tofu and other soy products, Nuts, Seeds and Nut Butters. They also suggested that it would be useful if they have fresh fruits at least three times per week.

During the two weeks stay they visited 12 Villages. Total no. of patients seen was 222, which included 42 children. Most of the cases were related to musculoskeletal, gastrointestinal and malnutrition arising from their addiction. They encountered a lot of skin problems in the children in villages. The fertile soil of Kechla and the flush green abundance of greeneries have a lot of potential medicinal values. If only the villagers are taught to capitalise on this it would be a great help. The most important need they felt was the education of the villagers as most of their illness is related to heavy alcohol consumption and tobacco chewing, both in men and women.

What our students say about the Camp

“In December 2012, our school organized a trip for class IX to Kechla, which is an extremely remote village in the hills of Orissa. After three days and two nights of exhausting yet enjoyable travel, which was an experience in its own, we finally arrived at the beautiful village of Kechla. The view was simply stunning, and it took our breath away.

There were 42 of us, and 3 teachers, including Nisha ma’am, Shimita ma’am, and our principal, Ms. Sanghamitra Ghosh

Each morning began with an early morning exercise routine, ‘Keep Fit’, which was exhilarating and was followed by fun and games.

Our morning treks were challenging yet extremely enjoyable, and brought us closer to Mother Nature. The cuts and bruises didn’t seem to matter at all, for all we cared about was the fun and frolic.

Interaction with the children of the school was an eye opener in itself, making us realize how aware of their surroundings they were. They were the happy-go-lucky kind, and taught us a lot in our short stay of one week.

The daily visits to the reservoir were the ones most awaited for, splashing in the water gave a thrill of a different kind to everyone. The one activity which was dreaded by everyone was rappelling, which half the children had decided not to engage in, for it literally made them cry. But Pranjal Bhaiya convinced us all and made us do it for our own good, and each and every child on the camp ended up doing it, and feeling a lot better about themselves. It even cured many of us of our fear of heights!

Another activity which was immensely looked forward to was boating, for which there was an eager rush. We all tried rowing the boat atleast once and realized that it was not as easy as it appeared to be at first! Rowing the boat with your friends, with people cheering you from the shore, and the boatman terrified yet tutoring us all the while on how to monitor the boat properly, really made our day.

The day culminated with meditation with the children, which was very relaxing at the end of an exhausting day. The chanting and the bhajans made us all come closer to our inner self and provided for an environment of utter calm and peace.

Talks and sermons with Pranjal Bhaiya every day made us aware about many factors of our environment which required attention, each having an importance of its own. Pranjal Bhaiya's words of wisdom were very thought-provoking and we truly were the lucky lot to have Pranjal Bhaiya with us.

The jump into the waterfall at the last day was the cherry on top of the cake, a first for many. Each one of us jumped many times, and even convinced our teachers to take a dip!

Apart from all the hustle and bustle, Kechla was an extremely memorable, different and fun-soaking experience, that would probably never be forgotten in this lifetime."

– Class IXE

Flowers In Our Campus: that bloomed this year were Amaltas, Anamika, Cactus, Cosmos, Dahlia, Garjania, Hibiscus, Lily, Madhumalti, Mulberry, Mili, Palash, Puppy, Sadabhar, , Sunflower, Ticoma etc.

Inspirations

“Serene and wondrous. So much to learn, re- discover, ponder. Going back with a feeling of immense warmth, simplicity and a connect that will last a life time. There’s gratitude and lots of warm feelings and am going back holding on and cherishing it.

KIRTI

“To feel the Mother’s presence one should visit and look the work at Kechla, Koraput. I must express my gratitude to The Mother & thanks the inmate of the Ashram and the person behind such work.”

SN Sarangi, Nabarangapur

“Stillness speaks in this ashram very happy to here.”

Ann-Charlotte Mahanandia, Una von Schedvin

Dear Mr.Pranjal,

Kechla was a name I had heard in 2009, when my grandson was studying in MIS and was scheduled to go for a school camp. Unfortunately the camp did not materialise and I failed to locate this "island in the lake" in the atlas.....

The warmth, spontaneous acceptance and the hospitality shown by the inmates and the children was really awesome! I have yet to come across a bunch of such lively, cheerful, focussed, self-sufficient and satisfied looking bunch of kids as I saw there. This speaks volumes for the care, love , and consideration shown by the teachers and all helpers there. I was really surprised at the expanse of the School, the Ashram and the Orchards. The care and planning taken over all the needs of living like Solar heating, Windmills etc was most amazing to see. Now with the Dairy project coming up the additional need for children’s milk requirement will be comfortably met. A BIOGAS plant would ease out the problems in the Kitchen to a great extent. We were very fortunate to attend the prayer session at the Meditation Room with Ms Gyatri and Mr. Sukanto. The peace and pleasure one felt at the prayer would be a memory to cherish... always. The impromptu dance drama put up for us by the young ones was really great! A big thanks to Poonam and Ravi. I have to make special mention of Ms Sangeeta , who at this young age manages the others with such respect and affection that its unbelievable. The way Ms .Parvati cajoles the children so tactfully to interact with one another as well as with the visitors is remarkable. I was so gratefully happy to see the young ladies from Delhi so well adjusted and happy doing their duties. My friends here at Arpana Trust were delighted to hear about Bharati and Vidotma. and thank you for for giving them this wonderful opportunity Had I been younger I would have looked forward to making another trip soon , but at 80 I guess I'll have to be careful ! My family and I shall be happy to be of some help in any form you think fit.

With best regards and love to all who remember me,
sincerely ,
Dr. Raj Gupta

Respected Sir,

Generally all the students' oral hygiene is good, they are brushing their teeth properly. This year I am very happy to treat the children. Redone fillings and sealants are due to lots of saliva and full of tatar (dirty mouth) for all the children last year. First we finished cleaning the teeth and we did the filling and sealants.

I spoke to Sanjeev Ji regarding the exchange programme Kechla and the Udavi school students, He is happy to receive the kechla children for a week. If it is possible to do this programme in Dec' 13 end of the week. I am planning to take the children to Zoo and the some temples. If you have some idea please let me know. I apply for the project for cultural event one evening in Bharat Nivas with our music children and the Kechla students also participated in the cultural dance and songs.

I will know the result in March' 13 only for the funding this event.

Thanks,

Suriya.

Dear Pranjal bhai,

Your work at Kechla is incredible! After having been there I realized that one has to go there, be immersed in the on-going work of transformation and become one with it. It is only then that this work becomes a part of one's being and one wants to participate in it.

The tribal children are being given a rare opportunity to explore and express themselves, to articulate their aspirations and to follow their dreams. How did you and your team manage to make them proficient in English considering the fact that they come from poor illiterate families. These small children read and converse in English! It leaves me wonderstruck. And not to miss their impeccable pronunciation of Sanskrit when they recite shlokas and mantras or enact a Sanskrit play. Whereas at times even some college teachers of Sanskrit as well as trained pundits are not able to pronounce Sanskrit words correctly, these children do so with ease.

I have a confession to make. One thing had bothered me considerably, before I went to Kechla. I thought the children were being transplanted in a magical never-land. My apprehensions were unfounded. I find they go home once a week to stay with their families and in this way they remain touch with their mother tongue and their cultural roots as well.

You and your team are bringing about a wondrous transformation in a quiet, unobtrusive and determined manner. Your work is heart-warming as well as uplifting. It uplifts both, the children and those who are helping them in being groomed.

May more and more tribal children benefit from your work.

Dear Pranjal,

Your school fits with my concept of ideal school which nurtures spirituality along with learning. Schools here are quite nice, however I feel that they completely miss out on spirituality, they do take lots of efforts to foster good values, but still I feel something is missing. Surroundings are beautiful like Koraput here as well and New Zealanders are quite natural people with strong community spirit.

I should have started a school like yours one here - perhaps too late - running out of energy.

Will write again sometime. It seems all is well at your end. We are fine as well.

Arti

My dear Pranjal,

Thank you! I know that a large team of dedicated and wonderful people has made this school a reality....and the improvements are amazing, but you are the team leader who everyone looks up to. Every time I read anything about the school, or very often, look at the children's photographs that I took during our visits, I want to be with them. You are an amazing human being along with all the teachers and helpers at Kechla. Please give all of them, and our children lots of love and hugs.

Till we meet again in Delhi and in Kechla. I promise to spend much more time with the children next year.

Lots of love,

Urmila Didi
