Report- 2023-24 (First Term)

Introduction

My name is Sushila Kamar, and I come from a nearby village called Girlaguda. I have been a student at this school and also actively volunteer with the youngest group in our school. I have a deep affection for teaching small children. Currently, I am preparing for my first year of graduation. I have already completed half of the papers earlier. The papers I have completed are BEGC-101 (Indian Classical Literature), BEGAE-182 (English Communication Skills), BEVAE-181 (Ability Enhancement Compulsory Course - AECC) on Environmental Studies, and BSOG-171 (Indian Society: Images and Realities). Now, I will be taking the remaining subjects that I didn't complete earlier, including BEGC-102 (European Classical Literature), BEGC-103 (Indian Writing in English), and BGDG-172 (Gender Sensitization: Society). I am currently volunteering for four hours each day.

Volunteering

In the morning, I teach the Peace Group, consisting of the youngest children. I instruct them in songs, mantras, counting, share projects with them, tell them stories, and engage in various activities. I thoroughly enjoy working with small children, although there are times when their disruptions can be a bit challenging.

In the afternoon, I teach dance to the younger children, which is another aspect of teaching that I love.

Shramdan

Regarding Shramdan, we engage in various tasks such as toilet cleaning, hostel cleaning, gardening, school cleaning, cleaning the girls' hostel, and kitchen duties. We rotate our Shramdan responsibilities every month. Currently, I am working in the kitchen, and I must say it's my favourite among all the Shramdan activities. I particularly enjoy cutting vegetables in the kitchen.

Programmes

During the Rathyatra festival, I had a great time pulling the rath. I also enjoyed dancing with my friends. On Ganesh Chat urthi, I performed two dances in Pahadi songs: "Payela" and "Rajula." I have a deep passion for performing dances during various functions and events. I enjoy attending these functions and savouring the moments.

Games

I have a particular fondness for playing basketball. I also love volleyball, although I rarely get the opportunity to play it. Scoring baskets in basketball is something I enjoy. Even though I attempt to run during games, I find it challenging. I engage in games with the younger children once a week and introduce them to various minor games.
