Introduction

I am Prabhat Krisani, a 15-year-old, born on 10th May 2009. I enjoy spending time with my family and friends and do not take many holidays. I have cleared exams in five subjects. In Social Science, I obtained 69%; in Science, 79%; in Maths, 81%; in Hindi, 81%; and in English, 77%. I cleared these exams under the NIOS board.

I take great care to stay clean. I live in the hostel and am happy with the food provided.

Shramdan

I start my Shramdan early in the morning and enjoy doing it daily. My tasks include toilet cleaning, hostel cleaning (both girls' and boys' hostels), school cleaning, kitchen work, and gardening.

In the kitchen, I cut vegetables, help cook breakfast, and fill

I sweep the verandah and clean the groups.

water filters. In the girls' hostel, we clean the area around the building, remove weeds and pebbles, and water the plants. In the boys' hostel, I sweep and mop the dining hall, clean tables, open drains, and remove cobwebs from the ceiling.

For gardening, I dig, water the plants, and harvest ripe vegetables. For school cleaning,

Trip

I started my trip on 1st November from Koraput and reached Bhubaneswar the next day. We visited the Lingaraj Temple and saw many beautiful statues of Gods and Goddesses. Then, we travelled to Simlipal, where we saw breathtaking waterfalls like Barahi and Uski and spotted a tiger during a jeep safari.

Next, we went Balasore, where I visited Bhitarkanika and saw crocodiles of various sizes. We also visited Panchalingeshwar Temple and Jagannath Temple and had fun at Purbi Beach.

That evening, we left for Gaya and arrived late at night. We stayed in Arai village in Bihar and visited several holy places, including Jal Mandir, Nalanda University, Bodh Gaya, and many Buddhist monasteries.

We also went on a zoo safari, where we saw deer, leopards, bears, tigers, and lions. I enjoyed a rope-way ride to Vishwa Shanti Stupa and bathed in the warm waters of Brahmakund.

After that, we visited Varanasi, where we explored Kashi Vishwanath Temple and the stupa at Sarnath. We also visited various ghats, including Namoo Ghat, Ganga Ghat, and Vishwanath Ghat, and watched the mesmerising Ganga aarti from a boat.

The next day, we travelled to Ayodhya by bus. There, we visited Hanuman Mandir and Ram Mandir, where the walls and ceilings were beautifully carved. We also witnessed the Sarayu aarti.

In Lucknow, we visited the Clock Tower, Art Gallery, Shri Mahadev Mandir, Hanuman Temple, and the Gomti River. I especially enjoyed exploring the Bhulbhulaiya.

After Lucknow, we went to Jhansi, where we visited Jahangir Fort and watched the sound and light show at Jhansi Fort. We also explored Jhansi Museum and the planetarium and visited the Amar Ujala printing press, where we observed how news is collected and printed.

I enjoyed the trip immensely and returned to Kechla with wonderful memories.

Celebrations

On 31st December, we performed a tribal dance, and another dance based on college life.

On Basant Panchami, I participated in the havan and played the tabla in the orc

Sports

I regularly participate in sports activities, including running, exercise, and games.

I love playing football, especially in the midfield position, and sometimes I play as a goalkeeper. I have improved my football skills.

In volleyball, I enjoy net-keeping and serving. I have also started liking basketball, as I have improved through practise.

During Sports Day, I participated in the march-past and performed a pyramid formation.

Science

I have started studying Class 11 Chemistry. I read the theory, answer questions from the chapters, and take notes.

In Physics, I revise the chapters I have covered and try to solve numerical problems.
