INTRODUCTION

Pooja is a sweet little girl who loves coming to school regularly. She always arrives early and enjoys having breakfast in the hostel. Her home is far, and she lives in a nearby village with her grandmother. She is consistently neat and clean and has a passion for drawing when she's at school.

CHANTING AND SINGING

During circle time, Pooja sits properly and participates in chanting all the mantras and songs she has learned. She exudes confidence when singing alone and quickly grasps the chants and songs. However, she faces some difficulties with pronunciation. She pays close attention when the teachers introduce new songs and is capable of singing the songs independently.

PROJECTS

Pooja loves the project class, and she has been actively involved in the colours, vegetables, and fruits topic. She has learned the names of colours, vegetables, and fruits, showing particular interest in colouring pictures of vegetables. While she generally concentrates well in class, sometimes she gets distracted when playing with her friends. Nevertheless, her ability to remember information is remarkable.

MATHEMATICS

Pooja enjoys counting objects and can correctly count from 1 to 20. When counting up to 30, she occasionally seeks the teacher's assistance. She tries to focus in maths class and listens carefully when others are counting. She also takes pleasure in arranging beads, collecting leaves and stones to create designs.

CELEBRATIONS AND FESTIVALS

Pooja actively participated in school programs, including a song performance on Independence Day. She also performed a dance for Janmashtami in the song "Maa Ka Kanhaiya" but experienced nervousness upon entering the stage. For Ganesh Chaturthi, she sang "Ek Do Teen Char Ganapati Ki Jai Jai Kar." She has a fondness for attending functions, enjoys watching dances and dramas performed by other groups, and indulges in sweets during festivals.
