Attendance- 183 out of 183 days

Introduction

Subechha, aged seven, resides with her elder sisters and regularly attends school neatly. She has an affinity for painting and loves playing with her friends during her free time. Her preferred meals include puri and potato curry, and she occasionally drops food while eating. Subechha is friendly with her peers, although she may feel somewhat shy when conversing with teachers. However, when she talks, it is done with a warm smile.

Projects

1. Health and Hygiene: Subechha displayed a keen interest in learning about health and hygiene. She expressed her understanding through drawings that highlighted cleanliness. Not only did she learn the importance of cleanliness, but she also practically applied it by following the steps for handwashing. Her active involvement in activities such as coloring cleanliness-related drawings showed her commitment to this topic.

2.My Family: Subechha's curiosity extended to her family members. She was able to identify and name each of her family members, recognizing that she has five family members at home. She demonstrated her understanding through drawings of her family members and created a family tree. Additionally, she explored relationships within the family and even learned family songs, such as "Daddy Finger" and "Mother Nice and Kind." This indicated her eagerness to learn about her family and connect with her loved ones.

3.Me and My Body Parts: In this topic, Subechha learned the names of her external body parts. She expressed her understanding through drawings. Although she took some time to learn the body parts song, "Eyes, Ears, Elbow, Neck, and Nose, I Love My Body," her dedication to learning was evident. She also grasped the concept of the five senses and could explain the functions of the eyes, nose, ears, tongue, and skin. This showed her inquisitiveness about her own body and its abilities.

4. Shapes: Subechha exhibited a strong understanding of shapes, recognizing and learning their names and properties. She enjoyed learning shape-related songs and created drawings of various shapes.

5. Vegetables: Subechha displayed an impressive knowledge of vegetables, both in English and Hindi. Her ability to recognize vegetables and even name them while blindfolded is a testament to her understanding. She expressed her knowledge through drawings and enjoyed hands-on experiences. Her visit to a garden, where she recognized vegetables based on the plants, showcased her practical knowledge. Her creativity was evident when she worked with clay to create a beautiful tomato, and she enjoyed collaborative activities with her friends.

Subechha's enthusiasm for learning and her active participation in various topics reflect her eagerness to explore and understand the world around her. Her engagement in practical activities and her creative expressions through drawings demonstrate her commitment to her education and her curiosity about different subjects.

English

Subechha portrayed the role of Parbati in "Kuber and Ganesh" and the wall in "The Mice Wedding." She enjoys trying to speak in English and using full sentences. She's interested in learning new songs and can retell stories, though only the parts she understands.

Hindi

Subechha is a very sweet and attentive student. She actively concentrates in class and is also frank. She enjoys listening to stories and has the creative ability to make her own stories. Subechha has successfully memorized the names of shapes in Hindi and has learned the Hindi alphabets introduced to her. She has also learned the Hindi songs "Jo Bhi Kam Karo Tum Bacho" and "Bade Savere Bulbul Aati."

Maths

Subechha is a very attentive student in the class. She has learnt addition, subtraction, more than, less than, before numbers, after numbers, between numbers, and a little bit of skip counting. She has experience with one-digit by one-digit numbers, two-digit by two-digit numbers, and two-digit by one-digit numbers in addition, initially with objects and later mentally. While she is proficient in adding with objects, she sometimes experiences delays in mental calculations. She initially had some confusion with after and before numbers, but repetition has helped her understand these concepts better. She has a solid understanding of skip counting by twos and has also practiced skip counting by threes. She is proficient in subtraction for numbers up to twenty, both with and without carrying, especially when presented through stories or word problems. Subechha also excels in more than and less than comparisons and demonstrates an understanding of addition and subtraction word problems.

Arts

Subechha is an artist who embraces all art activities with enthusiasm. She particularly enjoys paper folding and crafting, demonstrating her versatility. Her flower drawings reflect her passion for art and her preference for light, careful colouring.

Puzzles

Subechha collaborates with her friends, with a preference for her friend Drishti. She enjoys solving puzzles depicting "Snow White" and animals and showcases unwavering concentration in her puzzle-solving endeavours. Her expertise extends to puzzles with 50 and 100 pieces.

Dance

Subechha enjoys dancing and learns dance steps rapidly. She remembers them well and is not shy about dancing alone. She likes dancing to Pahadi songs, and she learned "Vrindavan Mein Gopi Aaye," performing it well during Janmashtami.

Games

Subechcha is a quiet and cooperative child. She doesn't argue with the teacher during games, listens attentively, and attempts to concentrate.
