Introduction

Shravani is a regular and cheerful student who is known for her neat and clean appearance. She's a talkative and curious girl who often talks about her younger brother to her "didi" while walking on the road. She has a fondness for vegetables and enjoys the food prepared in the hostel.

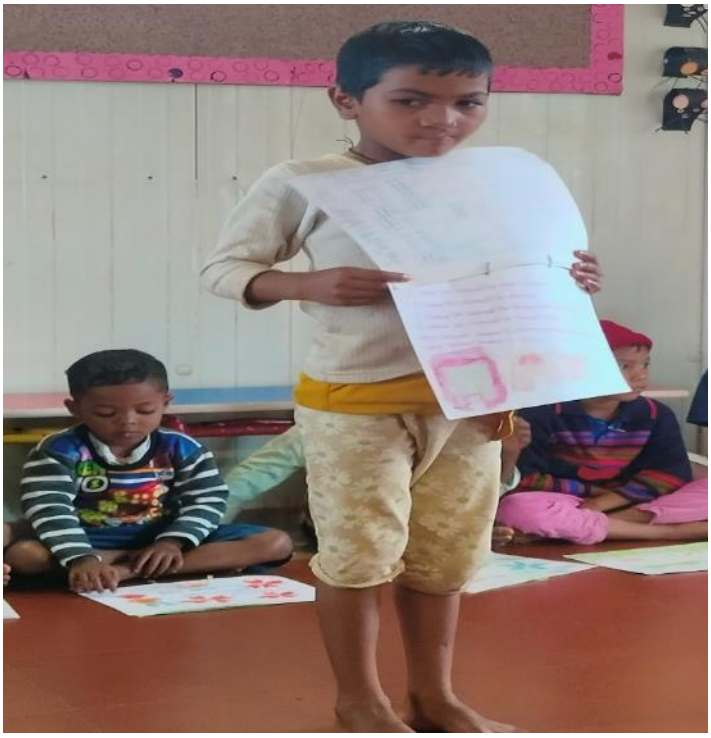
Circle Time

During circle time, Shravani sits with crossed legs and actively participates in chanting with a loud voice. She enjoys singing songs with actions, quickly memorizes the lyrics, and confidently performs in the assembly.

Languages

Hindi

In Hindi, Shravani likes to listen to stories from picture books and demonstrates a good understanding of the stories. She can answer questions related to the stories, remembers them, and can retell them in the correct sequence. When creating her own stories through drawing, she faces some difficulty relating sentences.



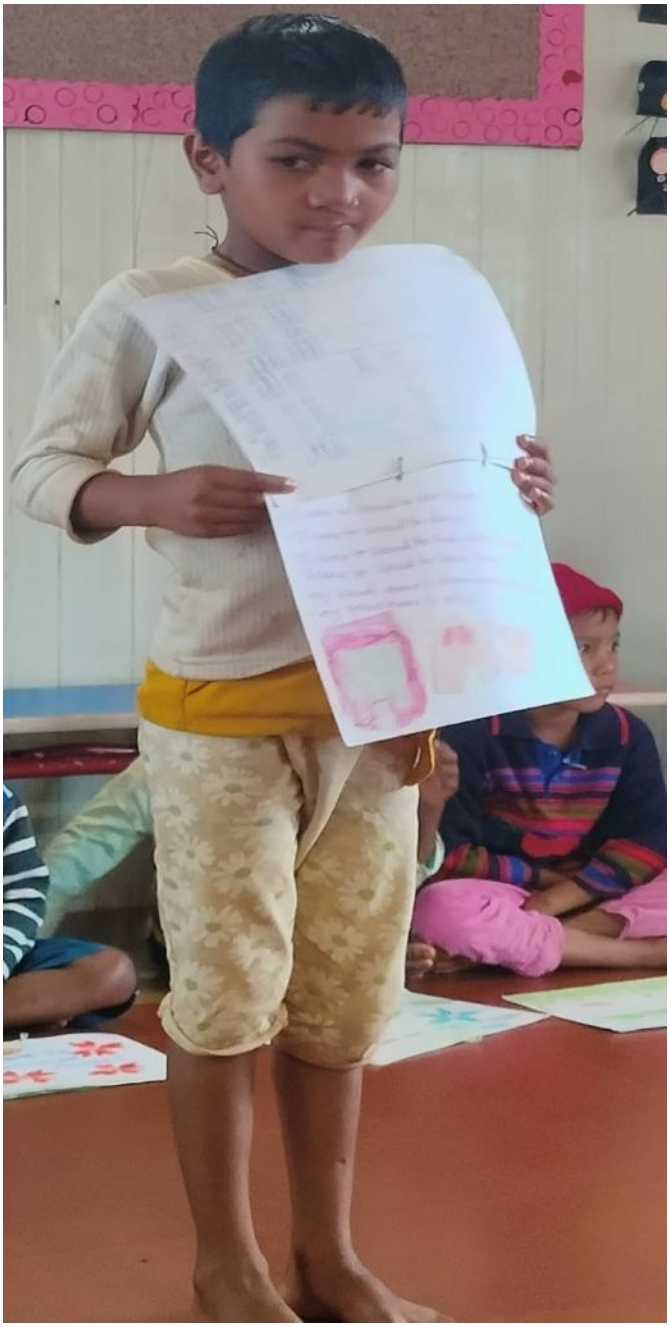
In the "Myself" topic, Shravani has learned to introduce herself in full sentences and has created a book with drawings and paintings.

In the "Body Parts" topic, she can provide explanations about the functions of body parts and has learned a song related to body parts. She's also proficient at drawing and painting body parts.

In the "My Family" topic, Shravani has drawn pictures of her family members and can narrate 6 to 7 lines about her family.

English

She enjoys listening to short stories and rhymes with books and puppets. She can understand the stories in English, attempts to answer questions in the same language, and has learned some rhymes and vocabulary from picture books. She is also familiar with the names of body parts and has learned to introduce herself in full sentences.



Mathematics

In mathematics, Shravani has shown significant progress over the past six months. She can count forward and backward from 1 to 100 without using objects, although she occasionally requires a little assistance in backward counting. While she may experience confusion with numbers related to before and after, she provides correct answers up to number 30. She has a strong grasp of numbers like 15, 50, 13, and 30 and can represent them using stick bundles. Shravani can distinguish between big and small numbers and comprehends the concept of breaking numbers into tens and ones. She can perform single-digit additions without objects but relies on objects when dealing with larger numbers. She is competent in skip counting by twos, although she may require objects when counting up to 100. Despite joining the group later, she has made wonderful progress in her math skills.

Skill work

She actively participates in all art class activities, aiming to finish them quickly and help others. She enjoys drawing trees, animals, and forests while maintaining a clean workspace. She is skilled at paper folding, and she likes making boats.

Celebrations

Shravani enjoys dancing and singing and quickly remembers her parts for various events. On different occasions, she has performed a drama about body parts, danced to "Sri Aurobindo Name Ananda," made Rakhi and tied it to the grace group children, performed a dance for Janmashtami to "Adharm Madhuram," and danced to "O My Friend Ganesha" for Ganesh Puja.

She actively participates in exercises, running, and jumping and cooperates well with her peers. In minor games, she enjoys races, passing the ball behind her, and other activities.
